

Credit: Da Dong NYC

STORY

54 Most Anticipated NYC Fall Restaurant Openings

FROM A CATCH-YOUR-OWN FISH RESTAURANT TO CELEBRITY CHEF EXPANSIONS

August 21, 2017 · by Sara Ventiera

From new celebrity chef concepts from the likes of Masa Takayama and Joël Robuchon to trendy hotel restaurants and a handful of Japanese imports, fall 2017 is bringing a whole slew of new restaurants to look forward to as the temperatures drop.

salads and masa's first-ever burger complemented by an approachable selection of local beers and wines, and a list of craft cocktails created with regional spirits. Later this year, Takayama will open the more refined and luxurious subterranean portion of the restaurant.

78 Leonard Street

Sorbillo NYC

ETA: Late September

Legendary pizzaiolo Gino Sorbillo will be opening a NYC outpost of his family's Naples, Italy, pizzeria. Opened in 1935, the iconic shop is renowned for its oversized, soft-crust Neapolitan pies using high-quality ingredients. One of Italy's top food figures, Sorbillo has been featured on MasterChef Italia, Australia and Israel.

334 Bowery

Da Dong New York (pictured above)

ETA: October

Chinese celebrity chef Dong Zhenxiang will bring his Beijing-based concept, hailed as one of China's best roast duck restaurants, to this 400-seat restaurant at 3 Bryant Park. Designed by renowned architect George Wong, Da Dong will feature two main dining rooms and two outdoor gardens.

3 Bryant Park; 212-938-0815