

THE INFATUATION

FEATURE:

Happening Right Now: New Restaurant Intel

By Hannah Albertine, Marisa Dunn, Bryan Kim, Katherine Lewin, Hillary Reinsberg, Chris Stang, and Andrew Steinthal

You already have the Hit List, our regularly updated guide to the best new spots in NYC. But based off Team Infatuation's recent restaurant experiences, here's our newest intel. Scroll down to get all the info on the places we're adding to our Hit Lists, the spots where we've been eating recently, and the next round of restaurants that we'll be checking out.

12/11/2017 UPDATE

OPENINGS:

Dadong: A famous restaurant in Beijing that's known for roast duck just opened its first American location next to Whole Foods in Bryant Park and they're charging $58 for half of their signature roast duck that feeds groups of two. It looks like it's going to be hard to get a table here, despite being a massive space.